Bay group to oppose beach parking

BY MARY G. SEILEY

A group of Bay St. Louis residents has retained a Gulfport law firm to object to the proposed county beachfront parking lot at Washington Street — dittoing recent protests waved by Waveland residents.

Members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and Bay St. Louis City Council were sent letters this week from the firm of Aultman, Tyner, McNeese, Ruffin & Laird Ltd., on behalf of seven Bay St. Louis residents upset over the Washington Street proposal. "In a very general way my clients' objections are, including but not limited to, the increase in traffic congestion, noise, pollution and parking problems which would accompany any added parking lot or similar facility," said attorney Henry Laird. The county wants to build two beachfront parking lots and comfort stations to accommodate an increasing number of beachgoers. As it stands, most beach visitors have to find parking spaces on the land side of Beach Boulevard, and cross the busy street to get to the beach. There are no public bathroom facilities, except a couple of portable toilets. County officials see the parking lot projects as a way to boost safety — children darting between parked cars to get to the beach are a major concern. The board of supervisors had engineer William Mitchell draft plans for both lots and comfort stations, and was on the brink

County to appeal FEMA public assistance denial

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Bay-Waveland-Hancock County Civil Defense director Bobby Boudin on Wednesday reported some 220 Hancock residents called the FEMA 800 number to report flood damage. Boudin said, "In Hancock County individual assistance was declared a disaster by Washington, while public assistance was denied."

"The public assistance denial will be appealed by local officials, and the county continues to update damages from the flood. The county has already doubled the amount of damages to the public sector as originally found by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) surveys," Boudin reported.

A letter dated May 19, from Richard Krimm, associate director of FEMA's Response and Recovery Directorate to Governor Kirk Fordice stated, "...The primary public sector impact was found to be damage to public road systems. Minor road repairs, such as pulling of ditches and surface blading were required. Some bridge and culvert washouts were identified. However, minor detours were generally established within 12 hours of the incident. "The state and local governments provided effective emergency response. Police and fire department personnel assisted in closing roads and diverting traffic. Other emergency operations included search and rescue and sandbagging. No damage to critical facilities was reported. No health and safety risks were identified. "Based upon our review of the available information, we concluded that the impact of this event is not of the severity and magnitude such that Public Assistance is warranted. In this case, it appears that the combined capabilities of the state and local governments are adequate to address the damage to public infrastructure. For this reason, I must deny your request for designation of Public Assistance..." The denial can be appealed within 30 days of the FEMA letter. Michael J. Polny, federal coordinating office for FEMA. SEE COUNTY—Page 5A

 That meant so much to me.
 But some sweet day we'll meet again.
 Beyond the toil and strife,
 And clasp each other's hand once more.

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the wonderful people of Hancock County who supported the Hancock County Food Pantry over the years. You are the reason the pantry has been such a great success.

I believe another reason is because we have no salaried employees. All money received is spent for food, outside of paying the telephone bill.

Thanks to all the local businesses, schools, churches, clubs, letter carriers and postal employees and organizations that stood by the Pantry and believed in us.

A special thanks to all my volunteers who have spent many hours of giving out food to the needy. We couldn't have done it without you.

Thanks to the Board of Supervisors, Civil Defense employees and my board of directors for being there when we needed you.

May God bless you,

After an exceptionally long and full life, "Jake", the mining dog, was recently laid to rest at the gold claim he loved. As his partner and friend, I once again thank the many kind people in this area for their gracious help and generosity. Lost for 12 days here, in January of 1994, Jake had business people, students, route drivers and many others assisting me in my search until he was found. These last 15 months we shared were very, very special.

Bay city officials adopt policy

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Bay St. Louis city officials have adopted a new policy on substance abuse to ensure a drug-free workplace.

The policy puts in writing many of the policies and procedures the city had been following, making it clear that substance abuse is considered grounds for dismissal from the workforce.

It provides for pre-employment drug screening, as well as random testing of "sensitive position employees." That category includes all non-clerical positions in the police and fire departments, and any worker who is required to operate a city-owned car or motorized construction equipment.

Every such employee is to be screened for drugs at least once a year, under the new policy.

Any other employee whose behavior or job performance "reasonably suggests" to supervisors that substance abuse could be a problem may be ordered to undergo drug testing. Refusal to submit to such tests is grounds for termination.

While the city covers treatment and rehabilitation for substance abuse, participating in those programs doesn't guarantee that the employee won't be terminated.

The policy states that the manufacture, distribution, dispossession, possession, transfer, trafficking or use of illegal drugs, or abuse of another illegal substance while on city property or engaged in city business also is grounds for dismissal.

Any employee who is arrested, indicted or convicted of a criminal drug offense, on or off the worksite, has five days to notify the city of the matter.

Under some circumstances, the city reserves the right to use drug detection techniques and to inspect for illegal drugs or other contraband in all city property assigned to employees, including lockers, desks and motor vehicles.

Any employee involved in a vehicular accident, or an accident which requires medical attention to the worker or others on city property, will be required to submit to a urinalysis, breath analysis and/or blood test within two hours of the incident.

Red Cross consolidates flood relief operation

The American Red Cross will consolidate the flood relief efforts of three of its service centers into one that will serve residents of Harrison and Hancock counties, officials have announced.

A Red Cross spokesperson said the organization's caseworkers have met with most families affected by the May 8 flooding in the two counties, and caseload followups now can be handled from a single center.

Effective Sunday, May 21, the Red Cross Service Center at 425 E. 2nd Street, Long Beach was closed. On Monday the Service Center at the Kilm Community Center on Hwy. 43 was also closed.

All assistance records from the two centers were moved to the service center in the Isaiah Fredericks Community Center at 3312 Martin Luther King Blvd., Gulfport. Persons who need to reach the Red Cross regarding matters originating in those disaster area centers should call (601) 868-6532, the number of the Isaiah Fredericks Community Center.

Other Red Cross Service Centers in d'Iberville, in the Old Library, and at 917 Goodyear Blvd. in Piquayune, as well as the center on Martin Luther King Blvd., Gulfport, will be open from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. daily.

Application for assistance through FEMA programs may be made by calling the FEMA Teleregistration number, 1-800-462-9029 (TDD 1-800-462-7585 for the hearing-impaired).

Breathing disorders topic of Hancock Medical class

Is your sleep being disturbed by coughing or breathing difficulties? Do you or a member of your family suffer from asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD)?

If so, you may benefit from a series of free educational classes sponsored by Hancock Medical Center and Stat Medical Equipment. Beginning Friday, June 2, the classes will focus on COPD, respiratory-related disorders, nutritional needs of COPD-related disorders and pulmonary rehabilitation.

Internist James Crittenden, MD, will discuss aspects of respiratory disorders at the first 11 a.m. session in the Hancock Medical Center classroom. Dress will be casual, and refreshments will be offered.

The purpose of this session is to create understanding about these disorders in a relaxed environment and to provide the basis for a support group to be initiated for those who need to learn to sleep and breathe easier.

There will also be new equipment related to these disorders for those attending to examine, as well as demonstrations.

"We hope the public will take advantage of this first meeting and give us input so that we may plan future meetings," said HMC cardiopulmonary department manager David Mayfield. "We hope to provide the most speakers and topics relevant to the needs of our audience."

For additional information call Stat Medical Equipment at 1-800-358-8357 or Mayfield at 467-9081.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I guess it is time for me to get back on one of my favorite subjects, and that is one-eyed vehicles.

One night last week I was at the intersection of U.S. 90 and McLaurin, and at the intersection there were three autos with only one headlight operational.

I just could not believe it. Two were waiting for the light to change to continue east, and one vehicle was entering the highway from McLaurin.

I traveled from Stennis Drive Thursday night after the Hancock High senior awards program and I only saw one one-eyed auto and one pickup in that distance.

Drivers of vehicles should know when they have a headlight not operating. If they cannot tell, probably they should have someone check their headlights, or do it themselves while their vehicles are parked.

It is very dangerous for oncoming traffic, especially on many of our narrow streets and lanes in the area.

How about checking you vehicle headlights.

I receive letters from time to time from people in the community who do not want to reveal their names.

Our policy at The Echo for letters to the editor that we publish is that they be signed and the name be published.

I received a letter a few days ago from some new Waveland residents, who feel they have had enough problems, so they did not want to reveal their names.

Anyway, their letters were of interest because of some of their comments.

The letter began by asking the question, "Is Waveland the 'Hospitality City' or is it misnamed?"

Among the complaints of the new citizens were, reflective markers stolen three times, home burglarized in April, dogs getting into their garbage can with lid on, dogs using their property for their business, mail box run over, etc.

The comment that got my attention was this, "We have lived in New Orleans for over 40 years and never had any problems like this."

I sure hope we are not getting a reputation of being worse than New Orleans.

Don't forget the Krewe of Nereids Fishing Tournament this weekend.

The fishing tournament is set for Saturday and Sunday, May 27-28.

Deadline for entering the tournament is 8 p.m. Friday, May 26. Entry fee is $30 per person and entry forms are available at Lil' Ray's and Daddy O's.

The entry fee also includes a crawfish boil, which will take place at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Friday. Guests can participate in the pre-tournament fun and food on Friday, if not fishing, for $5 in advance.

On Sunday, the freshest of fish dinners will be offered for $5 a plate.

There will be prizes in freshwater and salt water categories.

I hope everyone will catch the big one.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mother offers words of wisdom to grads

Dear Editor:

A certain young lady that I love graduates from high school in a few days. She will start college soon.

I have stayed awake nights lately wondering if there is any advice I might offer her. Many thoughts have come to mind, and it has occurred to me that all of her young counterparts might in some way benefit from them.

What follows is just some of the things that have passed through my mind as I lay awake thinking about my young friend in the middle of the night.

You will encounter many more teachers when you start college in the fall. Be kind and considerate of them. You often get back from teachers what you give to them. Remember that college teachers put great value on oral participation in their classes. I you have a question, ask it. If you have a thought, share it.

Give your best effort. It puts enjoyment in the task. Be self-motivated. Don't make someone supervise everything you do in order to get a job done.

Whatever your career is going to be, try to think in terms of how you can be of service to others. One must prepare to make a living, but seeking opportunities to help others put special satisfaction in life.

You have a fine mind and many talents. Study that language. Take that art class. Doing a hard thing will help you grow and develop as a person. Don't be afraid to try it because it's new and different from what you've done before.

There will be some bosses you won't like. If you find yourself in a job you don't like try to hang in there until you can do better somewhere else. Don't put yourself in the position of being without a way to make a living if you can help it. If you ever find yourself being yelled at, try giving back a soft answer. Sometimes, it makes anger go away. You'll be proud of yourself for keeping your cool. It has been my experience that even a boss who starts out to be a bear can turn out to be a true friend.

Your good manners are a very important talent. Exercise them with your teachers, your boss, your family, and especially with people who irritate you. Remember, you may not know who you have the power to hurt.

Set positive goals for yourself, but don't forget to enjoy the journey toward those goals. Enjoy the good things and the good people you meet along the way.

Be wise in your own behalf. Do what is necessary to keep yourself safe from harm. This world is a beautiful place, especially our Mississippi Gulf Coast. As you travel about, take a moment now and then to enjoy the sunny beaches, those marvelous old oak trees, the wildflowers and the deer on the side of the road.

Always remember your family and be loyal to them. If life gets tough, don't forget to look to God. He always walks beside you, and sometimes He will even carry you.

Always remember how much and by how many you are loved. Sincerely yours, Sue A. Osbourn Bay St. Louis

Arthritis Foundation not tied to two fund-raising groups

Dear Editor,

The Arthritis Foundation has received a number of calls from people in our community about a recent fund-raising appeal mailed to them from organizations not related to the Arthritis Foundation that asks them for funds or to help solicit funds for arthritis efforts. There is confusion as to whether these solicitations benefit the Arthritis Foundation.

The Arthritis Foundation has no connection to the two groups named in these mailings, specially: The Arthritis Fund and the Arthritis Research Institute of America. As with any charitable solicitation, people should make their donation decision based on their interest in the cause, their detailed knowledge of the decision based on their interest in the cause, and how their donor dollar will be used.

The Arthritis Foundation for example, funds arthritis research and provides services to improve the quality of life for people with arthritis and has done so since 1948. We are the only nationwide, voluntary health agency working on behalf of all people with any of the 100 forms of arthritis. Currently, 80 percent of every dollar raised goes to arthritis research and program services, 13 percent to fund-raising expenses and 7 percent to management and general expenses.

Locally, the Arthritis Foundation provides programs such as self-help courses, exercise classes on land and in water, support groups and more. There are many ways to make life with arthritis easier and less painful.

I encourage those who believe they have arthritis to call the Arthritis Foundation at 1-800-844-8400 for free information that can make a difference.

Meanwhile, I hope this explanation clarifies any confusion related to recent solicitations and the Arthritis Foundation.

Sincerely, Linda Rockhold, MD Arthritis Foundation, Mississippi Chapter Chairman, Medical Advisory Committee

New Scout executive introduces himself

Terry J. Samona

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself. My name is Terry Samona, and I am the District executive for the Boy Scouts of America, Hancock County.

I am a New Orleans native just recently relocated to Slidell, so that I can be physically close to my area of service. For those of you who are not very familiar with Scouting, a District Executive (DE) is a liaison between the Packs and Troops and the New Orleans Area Council of which Hancock County is a part.

I am actively involved in the recruitment of both adult volunteers and children, as well as fund-raising, camping, training and virtually every other aspect of the Scouting experience.

I am very excited about having the opportunity to work with volunteers and children in Hancock County so that we can continue to expand the program so that it reaches as many kids as possible.

My personal goal is to create and maintain as many new units in Hancock County as I can in the next couple of years.

This is important to me because I know of the temptations and dangers that face the youth of today.

We need to let the youth of Hancock County know that there are people out there who care about them and who want to help them through the often troublesome time of adolescence, and Boy Scouts of America intends to do just that.

If people know that there is a Scouting program in or near their neighborhood they are more likely to check it out at first just out of curiosity or because their child has heard about the program through a friend or through school.

This is the most important step, because once we get them out to a school night and introduce them to the program and its unlimited benefits, they are sold on the program almost every time.

This gives the children a place to go once or twice a month for meetings, activities to do on the weekend numerous times throughout the year, and training in Scouting principles which are essential to their physical and intellectual development.

Kids in Scouting do not only learn knot tying and camping skills, but they earn practical experience in leadership and civic mindedness which will stay with them throughout their entire life.

Before I conclude, I would like to give you some information on Scouting in Hancock County.

At present there are eight Packs and five Troops active in Hancock County. Units can be found in Pearllington, Lakeshore, Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead and as far north as Kiln. Most of these units are sponsored by churches, schools or civic organizations.

These units combined consist of about 300 kids and almost as many adults.

So you can see that Hancock County is well represented in the Boy Scouts of America, but we must continue to bring in new boys and adults so that we can absorb as many children as

Writer responds to woman in need of housing

To the Editor:

We don't live in a mansion, but we do live in a two-bedroom mobile home. It's a place to live. We opened our door to Pat Harshorn.

We arranged several rental prospects for her, but each time she turned them down.

She lived with us approximately eight weeks.

No one in my household told her she had to move. She told us that she had an apartment off Union and Old Spanish Trail. The next day I found out she moved in with my sister.

Others can help too in beautification efforts

To the Editor:

We were delighted to see the number of letters you have printed recently concerning our litter/beautification situation here on the Gulf Coast.

For those who wrote, thank you for caring. For those who care and want to do something to help, the following information may prove useful.

First and foremost, don't litter. Please teach your children by example that littering is not socially acceptable behavior.

In the meantime, please consider "adoption." The Mississippi Department of Transportation has an anti-litter adoption program for state roads. For information call them at 943-6985.

In Hancock County the Chamber of Commerce sponsors our Beautification Committee which actively works in the areas of anti-litter/beautification and recycling.

We would welcome your help and hope that you will join us.

You can adopt a street or block in Waveland or Bay St. Louis or a stretch of road out in the country. We have litter hotlines in the cities and county to report violators.

We also are sponsoring a highway median beautification program. For information call 467-9048.

In September join the Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force's coastwide beach cleanup and help return our beaches to their natural beauty.

We all need to be aware — and become part of the solution rather than the problem. It's true that our economic future depends on the all-important good first impression, but regardless, we should remember that we deserve to live and work in a clean and beautiful place.

Kind regards, Betsy Ashman, Chairman Carol Vegas, Co-chairman Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee of calling for bids to construct the facilities simultaneously.

But Mitchell's final presentation to the board attracted a major protest from Waveland residents, who said concentrating 70 parking spaces at Coleman Avenue would ruin their beach view and generate intolerable levels of noise, traffic, and pollution.

They urged that the county construct a series of smaller parking bays along the beachfront, disbursing the newly available parking slots.

The board postponed calling for bids on the Waveland project in the face of the controversy, but proceeded to seek bids on the Bay St. Louis parking lot -- saying there had been no objections to it.

Laird said Wednesday his clients weren't aware of the county's plans until they read news accounts of the Waveland project. While the county is proceeding with a project they believe is in the public good, said Laird, the citizens want a chance to make their objections known.

"This is the sort of thing they have hoped for years would not happen," Laird said of the Washington Street project. "They just want to have their opportunity to object."

Laird represented several of the same clients years ago in a lawsuit to halt expansion of the Washington Street pier.

Board President Michael Lader said Wednesday he sees no reason to back off from the Bay St. Louis project -- bids for the construction are to be opened at the June 5 board meeting.

Ladner said the latest objections to the county project reminds him of "the old days of Bay St. Louis," when a relatively few residents stood firmly in opposition to any type of change.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's an issue already approved. We're going to go forward, unless somebody stops us," Ladner said of the Washington Street project.

Meanwhile, the board probably will reconsider its stance on the Waveland parking lot next month. The Waveland Board of Aldermen recently endorsed that project, urging the board to proceed despite the protest from some Waveland residents and property owners.

Mayor Eddie Favre said Wednesday he's totally in favor of the county's project at Washington.

Bay St. Louis City Council has not formally voted on the Washington Street project, since it's a county project. The matter has come up briefly at several recent meetings -- one council member suggested the county's proposed comfort station on the beachfront could negate the need for the city to build a tourist comfort station elsewhere downtown.

County officials have agreed to defer calling for bids on the comfort stations to see how much money would be available after construction of the parking lots.

reported this week that 220 applications from Hancock County for private assistance had been received.

Along the Coast (Hancock, Harrison Jackson and Pearl River, counties) FEMA issued some 224 checks as of May 22. Of that number, 36 was for Hancock County.

Boudin said, "You know we had a lot of property damage within our county, yet, we were fortunate that we had no injuries due to the floods. I have documentation of 27 1/2 inches of rain falling in several parts of the county during a 24-hour period."

"I do have to say a lot of praises should go to everyone who helped during these emergencies. This includes state law officers, sheriff's officers, firefighters, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Hancock County School District, and many volunteers," Boudin added.

Boudin indicated there still may those out there who have not reported damages as yet, and it is important to do so.

again," Shaver said. "Fortunately, I was able to borrow money from mother. But what about all of the people that are not as fortunate?"

Simpson said his office, a clearinghouse for child support payments, handles approximately 300 cases. Fathers send support checks to the Child Support office, which deposits it, and drafts a check to the party for the proper dollar amount. Previously, Simpson said the checks were drawn in Bay St. Louis.

Under the new system, Simpson said his office will still deposit the checks. The transaction will be recorded on the computer, and the Jackson office will issue the check.

"We don't write the checks from this office (anymore)," Simpson said.

"It's hard to say when this delay will be straightened out," he added. "We are processing checks as fast as we can."

This is little solace for Shaver, who relies on the money for bill payments and food.

"It's nerve-wrecking," she said. "There is no way to tell bill collectors they'll get paid when I get the money."

"The system has failed us."

HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS

Recently Civil Defense in five states ran mock hurricane drills. Diamondhead has used this opportunity to review its own procedures. The plans will be coordinated with the Diamondhead Water & Sewer and the Diamondhead Fire Department, then integrated as appropriate into the plan developed by the Hancock County Civil Defense Council.

These plans, upon completion, will be made available to Diamondhead residents. The hope is that we won't need to implement these plans, but to be prepared.

URGENT ... URGENT ... URGENT ... PEOPLE OF WAVELAND:

First, thank you for your support and for coming to the public hearing on meeting May 22 and for asking your many questions about our position before being on one side or another.

It has recently come to our attention that one of the Waveland City Aldermen (not Ward 2) may now be going around asking people to sign a petition contrary to our "Beachfront Preservation" Committee position, concerning the county's preliminary plans to build a sixty-nine car parking lot right on the sand beach in Ward 2.

This will open the door to further on the beach development and not only scath the beachfront but, will only help Ward 2 parking problems along the beach. None of the other beachfront parking problems are even being addressed by the preliminary plans trying to be adopted.

If you are asked to sign a petition in favor of the massive size car lot in Ward 2 on the beach, please ... find out the facts first! Don't be hoodwinked! Call Linda at 467-3654 for more information.

We DO want public parking and a comfort station in Waveland and always have but, we want a more RESPONSIBLE decision to be made on where and how and for whom.

If you feel you've been dogged into signing a politician's petition ... sign ours, too, to neutralize your hastened position. Thank you.

Post-flooding cleanup tips for homes, businesses

Disaster assistance applicants in the four south Mississippi counties hit by recent storms are encouraged to begin cleaning up their flood-damaged homes or businesses, even before federal/state inspectors arrive.

Michael J. Polny, federal coordinating officer for the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), said wet carpeting, mud accumulations and the like "constitute a real health hazard that should be avoided."

Added Jim Maher, state coordinating officer for the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA), "items of personal property that cannot be repaired can simply be discarded." Such items include furniture, appliances, clothes and the like.

Receipts for repair of damage, for cleaning and sanitizing, or for replacement of personal property should be maintained. Photographs of damage or items of personal property can be helpful, but are not necessary.

Federal and state officials recommended several ways of coping with damaged property, both real and personal, in the aftermath of the flooding in Harrison, Hancock, Pearl River and Jackson counties.

For homes with septic systems, the following is suggested: Avoid using the home plumbing system until the septic tank has been checked for shifting, or if the grease layer in the top of the tank has blocked inlet or outlet pipes; minimize the amount of mud entering the plumbing system, if possible; repair physical damage to lagoons that have been silted in before long-term use is resumed; and, avoid contact with sewage from tank systems that don't work.

To prevent mildew, use an air conditioner, if available, or open windows when feasible; use fans to circulate air; turn on electric lights in closets and leave doors open for drying; and, let your lights stay on as long as dampness is present.

To remove mildew from household articles, brush off mildew growth to prevent scattering spores; run vacuum cleaner over area to draw out mold; sponge remaining mildew with thick suds and wipe clean; wipe mildew-stained areas with cloth containing diluted alcohol (one cup alcohol to one cup water), then dry; spray with fungicide or commercial disinfectant, then dry articles thoroughly.

Concerning furniture finishes and painting surfaces, a white haze or bloom from contact with water and dampness may develop. These problems don't require immediate attention, but ultimately a professional conservator may have to be consulted for treatment of the damage.

Regarding documents, books, photographs and works of art on paper, they will be extremely fragile when wet. Use caution when handling such items. Free the edges of prints and paper objects in mats and frames when possible.

These should be allowed to dry in the air. Rinse mud off wet photographs with clean water, but do not touch surfaces. Soaked books and papers should be air-dried, or may be kept in a refrigerator or freezer until treated by a professional conservator.

In the matter of consumer protection, applicants are reminded to be cautious when hiring individuals or businesses to do repairs. The Mississippi Attorney General's office and FEMA's Inspector General offer the following advice: Get a written contract that clearly states the service and time factor; ask for references, then check them out; don't pay cash, and pay only after work is completed; and, remember that both federal and state law allow a three-day "cooling off" period to revoke a contract.

PRCC graduates record class in 1995 ceremonies

Pearl River Community College graduated its largest class in history during commencement exercises May 12.

PRCC holds three separate ceremonies to accommodate the crowd of family and friends that attend the annual graduation. College officials said 570 students were eligible to receive diplomas.

Also, during the ceremony for the associate degree nursing program, a record 84 nursing graduates received pins.

The 1995 nursing class presented a scholarship as a class gift in honor of nursing instructor David Cook, whose four-year-old son was killed last year in an accident.

Charles Shedd, nursing graduate from Lumberton, was the speaker for the nursing pinning ceremony.

Andrea Coker-Turner of Purvis said "One Moment in Time." Turner will be signing at the Grand Ole Opry and Dollywood this summer.

PRCC chooses its top students in each division to deliver the ceremonial addresses rather than having a guest speaker from off campus.

Speaking during the academic graduation was Jay Spurgeon of Picayune. Spurgeon is a mathematics major with a perfect 4.0 grade point average.

"This day should be marked as a milestone and not the arrival at a destination," Spurgeon said. "Whether we continue to pursue our education or move into the workforce, we are charged with the responsibility to sustain the truths learned here and carry them forth to others."

Spurgeon will transfer to the University of Southern Mississippi this fall.

Jodie Bennett, a special education major from Bassfield, gave the invocation. Kelli Roane Ryals, a mathematics major and 1994-95 Student Government president from Brooklyn, gave the benediction. During the vocational-technical graduation, speakers were Robyn Cagle of Purvis, Nathan Rankin of Lumberton and Dennis Barnett of Poplarville.

Cagle, speaking for technical students, graduated with a 4.0 in medical office technology. She has also been a full-time mother and wife.

"I believe success begins with a desire for growth that originates from within," said Cagle in her speech. "That belief is reiterated in the personal philosophy of our college president Dr. Ted Alexander. A student is not a vessel to be filled, but a lamp to be lighted. Those words can be found on PRCC's letterhead."

"It was those words that brought me to Pearl River almost two years ago. I could not have imagined how those words would light my desire for growth and play such a vital role in my achievements," said Cagle.

Rankin, a 1993 graduate of Purvis High School, graduated from PRCC in heating, air conditioning and refrigeration. After graduation he plans to continue work in the field and eventually go into business for himself.

"I came to PRCC as a graduate of Purvis High School with only basic high school knowledge and little experience away from a home environment," Rankin said. "I feel that I have grown during my two years here in many ways. I decided not to go into a field of endeavor just to make money, but to choose an occupation where I could enjoy myself as much as possible. I have found that air conditioning is enjoyable and will provide a good income."

Barnett spoke on behalf of students enrolled at PRCC's Allied Health Center in Hattiesburg. He graduated with honors from the physical therapist assistant program.

"Pearl River has offered me the opportunity to receive an excellent education at my convenience for the most reasonable cost a person can find," said Barnett. "The education I have received at this institution will give me an edge in today's competitive job market."

Warren Bennett, a 4.0 student from Bassfield, gave the invocation, and Nolan Miller of Oakvale gave the benediction.

Ex-service members may qualify for benefits

Former members of the military who left the service between Oct. 1, 1993 and Dec. 5, 1994, and who had unemployment insurance claims denied may file for a redetermination of their cases.

Unemployment Insurance claims for ex-military personnel are also known as UCX claims.

UCX claims are administered by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

If UCX benefits were denied because the reason for separation was not on the list of acceptable reasons previously used by the commission, the case is eligible to be reconsidered, according to Charles Ballard, director of unemployment insurance for MESC.

Ex-service members who think they are eligible for a redetermination because of this change in the regulations should report to the nearest Unemployment Insurance office of the MESC within seven days from today's date.

Century 21 associate completes training

Betsy Nolan of Century 21 of Diamondhead has completed the Century 21 21Plus Training, a comprehensive introduction to the Century 21 System and the business practices of real estate.

By successfully meeting the course requirements, Nolan is now equipped with not only valuable information, but state-of-the-art tools and programs "that will help me better serve my clients."

Nolan says the training, based on "consultative sales," is aimed at developing lifelong relationships with customers. The immediate listing and sale are still essential, but they are now treated "as events in the long life of a customer relationship."

Here's how to boat safely on Memorial Day weekend

Millions of Americans will take to the water for the first time this season over Memorial Day weekend and as many as 40 could die needlessly in boating accidents, according to BOAT/U.S. (Boat Owners Association of The United States), the nation's largest organization of recreational boaters.

"Since the most common cause of boating fatalities is drowning from falling overboard, the number of deaths could be significantly reduced if more boaters wear life jackets," said BOAT/U.S. President Richard Schwartz. About 800 people die each year in boating accidents, and 80% of the victims aren't wearing life jackets, he noted.

To tackle this problem, new Coast Guard regulation as of May 1 requires a wearable life jacket for each person on board a boat, rather than flotation (seat) cushions. In addition, National Safe Boating Week (May 20-26) was moved to before Memorial Day this year to focus nationwide attention on boating safety before the first big boating weekend.

A few other tips from BOAT/U.S. for safe boating on Memorial Day weekend:

- Alcohol and boating don't mix. Never let an impaired or intoxicated person take the helm.

- Don't overload your boat with people or equipment and make sure you have all Coast Guard required gear on board.

- Know before you go — get a weather forecast. While underway, observe current conditions and be aware of changing weather patterns.

- Keep a sharp lookout for other boats, swimmers of skier and objects in the water while the boat is moving. Most accidents are collisions.

A safe boating course is a good way to learn how to boat safely. BOAT/U.S. is providing a complimentary one-year membership to anyone who takes a course before June 30.

To find an approved course near you, call 1-800-336-BOAT.

Rocks, Tigers, Hawks end spring practice; await coming season with high hopes

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
It is getting to be that time of the year. I mean FOOTBALL time!

On Friday, May 19 the 'boys of fall' put on the pads once again and clawed, pounded, tackled, and intercepted their way to the glorious endzone at the Brother Philip Memorial stadium "in between the bricks" at Rock field.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws, the Bay High Tigers, and the Hancock Hawks waged battle against each other after scrimmaging themselves for the past three weeks in spring training.

The first game pitted the Tigers versus the Rocks. The Tigers played a ball control offense with Jonathan Favre calling the signals at quarterback. Fullback Richard Benton pulled off big gains through the Rock defense that was led by sophomore linebacker Joe Fertitta and junior linebacker Corey Charles.

When Favre had to go to the air he found Benton, T.J. Hawkins, and Tank Williams to throw to. However, after eating up some clock the Tigers had to settle for a punt to the Rocks. SSC took the ball inside their own 10 yardline.

Correy Gex was the field general for the Rocks and after an eight yard gain by tailback Corey Charles, the Rocks lined up to punt back to the Tigers. Bay High blocked the kick and the ball rolled out of the back of the endzone for a safety.

Bay High led 2-0 and the Rocks had to kickoff back to the Tigers.

The next play from scrimmage for the Tigers saw Rock defensive back Jerry Polk intercept a Favre pass.

On the Rocks offensive possession, Gex tucked and ran on an option for a gain of 12 yards. However, after minimal gains the Rocks had to punt back to the Tigers.

With the Tigers back on offense, Favre found Richard Benton downfield for a 17 yard gain. Favre dropped back again to pass but found Rock defensive back Eric Knight there to tip his pass to Rock linebacker Corey Charles who ran 47 yards for the TD. The two-point conversion attempt by the Rocks was no good and with 5:28 to go in the game, the Rocks led 6-2.

The Tigers saw Richard Benton gain 13 yards on their next play but to no avail as they had to punt back to the Rocks.

The Rocks did not do much on their next possession as they fumbled back to the Tigers on their third play.

The Tigers now had to test the air for it was crunch time. Favre dropped back and hit Willie Decamp for an 8 yard gain. Richard Benton gained the first down for the Tigers with a three-yard run. After that, Favre threw four incomplete passes and the Tigers turned the ball over on downs.

With :07 seconds to go in the game, the Rocks opted for a quick strike. Fullback Chris Middleton scooted 65 yards for the touchdown. The PAT attempt by Ty McMichael was no good and the game ended in a Rock victory 12-2.

The second game saw the Bay High Tigers tangle with the Hancock Hawks.

It took the Hawk offense less than two minutes to score first with a 47 yard TD run by J.J. Hay. The PAT attempt by the Hawks was good making the score 7-0 with 18:10 to go in the game.

The Tigers went three plays and out.

Hawk QB Chad Peterson hit Ken Malley for a 34 yard gain through the air. Then, Stanley Coleman went three yards for the second Hawk TD with 14:48 to go in the game. The Hawk PAT attempt was good and the score was now 14-0 in favor of the Hawks.

That is how the game would end as the two teams battled back and forth on defense and each team played ball control offense.

The third game pitted the Rocks versus the Hawks.

On the Rocks first offensive possession, Gex was intercepted by John Staviss.

The Hawks had similar problems getting momentum as they turned the ball over on downs.

Freshman tailback Tyree Haynes scooted for a gain of seven yards. Gex ran for the first down on a four yard QB sneak.

However, the Rocks had to punt the ball away due to the stingy Hawk defense.

The Hawks took over and received a huge 34 yard gain by J.J. Hay who was brought down in a dead sprint by Rock defensive back Derek Bradley.

Ken Malley scampered 15 yards for the Hawks before he was tackled by Joe Fertitta.

Hay gained another 27 yards on four carries before the Hawks ran into some penalty trouble that forced them to turn the ball over on downs.

On offense, Rock QB Gex scrambled 8 yards and Haynes gained five yards for the first down.

The Rocks had to punt back to the Hawks due to incomplete passes.

J.J. Hay gained 7 yards for the Hawks but that was nullified on the next play when Gathan Fertitta sacked the Hawk QB for an 8 yard loss.

When the Rocks got the ball back, Casey Swanson attempted a 50 yard field goal into the wind on third down. The kick fell short and the game ended in a 0-0 tie.

Rock mentor Brannon LeBlanc commented, "We have had a good spring considering all the changes we have had to make. We lost our defensive coordinator, Larry Ramsey, of nine years. We named Tim Burns as the new defensive coordinator."

He continued, "We have installed a 50 defense and a new weight program. Both have made us a more aggressive team. All spring, we have been injury free which has been a blessing. We have five good runningbacks that are battling for time. Gex is solid at the QB position even though he played with an injured shoulder tonight."

LeBlanc concluded, "We have seen some surprises this spring, also. Jeremy Penton has made alot of progress this spring for us never having played varsity football before. On the offensive side, Tyree Haynes has made great strides in all aspects of the game. We look to have an exciting season next year."

Hawk coach Rocky Gaudin commented, "Our spring has been a good one though it has been a short one. First of all, the state shortened the practice time and the weather forced us to miss four days last week due to the flooding. But we have a good spring."

Gaudin continued, "Our conditioning is a problem for us right now not having a full spring to work on it but the boys will be ready in the fall. We made some mistakes tonight that comes with conditioning. I feel we are a good football team but not a flashy one. We will be a good defensive football team. Plus, when we get conditioned, we will be a ball control team on offense. I see good things next year."

So until August, summer training, and the start of the high school football season, what one saw on May 19 is all you will get till then. Hope you enjoyed it and see you on August 26th.

Top student scholar-citizens-athletes can compete for Wendy's Heisman

Top high school students with proven scholastic, citizenship skills, athletic can compete for the second annual Wendy's High School Heisman award. Sponsored by Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers Restaurants, the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), and the Downtown Athletic Club in New York, the program recognizes outstanding academic achievement, community service, athletic accomplishment exhibited by high school senior men and women nationwide.

Applications have been mailed to the nation's 23,000 public and private high schools in early May, and principals may nominate by July 7 one male and one female student for the awards competition.

To be eligible for the award, students must be high school seniors during the 1995-96 school year, have at least a B grade point average, and participate in at least one of 31 sports officially sanctioned by the National Federation of State High School Associations.

Entries will be evaluated by the scholastic review service CTB/McGraw-Hill to narrow the field to 1,020 state finalists and subsequently to 102 state award winners, including the District of Columbia.

A distinguished panel of judges, including past Heisman Memorial Trophy recipients and leaders from the world of education, business and sports will select 12 national finalists, including one male and one female representing each of the six Heisman geographic regions. Each finalist will receive a gold medal and be invited to New York City to participate in the Heisman Memorial Trophy activities at the Downtown Athletic Club.

The two national award winners will be presented their trophies by Dr. Timothy J. Dyer, NASSP executive director; Wendy's Founder Dave Thomas; and program spokesperson Archie Griffin, the only two-time Heisman Memorial Trophy winner and current assistant athletic director for The Ohio State University.

"We can't emphasize enough the importance of recognizing these young scholar-citizens-athletes who will act as role models for generations to come," said Dyer.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Some very learned folks are saying that fresh water is lighter than salt water. They say because salt is dissolved in seawater, and the addition of salt gives water an extra ingredient, this makes seawater heavier. By following the 'learned folks' hypothesis we should be able to find salt water somewhere underneath all the fresh water in the Sound.

The salt content of the Mississippi Sound is now hovering somewhere between 2 PPT and 3 PPT. This is normally the time of year we expect to see the seawater salt content somewhere between 15 PPT and 20 PPT.

Obviously all the rains we have had in recent weeks have dumped a lot of fresh muddy water into the Sound. What all this means is: if salt water is usually found in a layer under fresh water, then the average depth of the Mississippi Sound would have to be about 900 feet deep to take care of all the muddy fresh water and still provide room for a layer of salt water at the bottom.

Now that all of the fishin' buddies know the depth at which the saltwater fish are hanging out, catching them should be a snap. Well, catching has not been a common word over the past few weeks. In other words the fishin' has been worse than lousy.

Some reports have come in of a few folks catching some fresh water catfish and a sturgeon around the mouth of the Pearl River. But other than that, you might wanna make sure all of the "honey-do" projects are out of the way 'cause the fishin' has gotta improve soon. Please!

I am now gonna hit y'all with some of the odds and ends of goings-on in our area. For those folks who fish out of Bayou Caddy or out of Ansley, there is a new place to obtain Mississippi and Louisiana fishing licenses on the way to both of these fishing areas.

Kent and Sue's Quick Stop, located on the corner of Lower Bay Road and Lakeshore Road, informs me that they are now carrying both Mississippi and Louisiana fishing licenses for sale.

Department of Marine Resources Ordinance 4.0004 is still in effect. This is the ordinance which allows the keeping of egg or "berry" crabs. It is hard to imagine how destroying egg-carrying crabs contributes to the harvestable stock of crabs. It might be a good idea if the fishin' buddies contact the DMR and ask them why the harvesting of egg-carrying crabs is still allowed. Their phone number is

OK, enough already

Fix it now, or tow it later.

385-5860.

DMR law enforcement reported at the last Commission meeting that they found one of the turtles taken from Marine Land dead in the Sound.

Law enforcement also said the courts returned 19 guilty verdicts on citations issued last month. They claimed this was an improvement over the percentage of guilty verdicts returned in the past.

Before I leave y'all this week I want to remind all the fishin' buddies that this is a good time to clean, oil and regulate the "gear." This is especially true for all those folks who have VRO units.

Don't forget to clean the filter screen on the bottom of the hose that goes into the VRO unit. This is especially important on engine models which do not have a warning buzzer to tell you your engine is not getting enough oil.

Lastly, since the fish are not biting, you might wanna work over your rods and reels now. I am hearing this guy Ronny Edmond is doing a real fine job repairing rods and reels. He is located in Ansley, and his phone number is 466-2779.

This week's wonderful wise words: I don't have any. Can a Turtle get any fatal medical conditions from lack of fishin', Turtle?

Rock golf three-peats in District; places second in state

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus golf team finished second in the state match on May 10 in Jackson. The Rocks also three-peated in District 8 Class 4A. SSC has won the golf division title in 1993, 1994, and 1995.

In the district match, the Rocks were paced by sophomore Chris Allen who shot a 72. Freshman Andy Jacobson shot a 76 while senior Ashley Cox, last year's low medalist in district, shot a 77. Junior Bart Vanderhoeven also shot a 77 for the Rocks. Chris Genin, and eighth grader, rounded the Rocks scoring at district with an 82.

Rock coach Chuck Genin, "It was perhaps the best scoring performance by an SSC golf team in recent years."

Over the course of the year, the Rocks participated in six tournaments winning four of them. The Rocks had one second place finish and a fourth place finish at a Mobile, Alabama tourney.

The 1995 state tournament marked the third straight year that the Rocks have made the sweet trip to Jackson. SSC placed 16th in 1993, 4th in 1994, and 2nd in 1995.

Freshman Andy Jacobson paced the Rocks at the state tourney with scores of 75 and 74. Jacobson placed second in the state in Class 4A. Chris Allen shot a 77 and 80 while Bart Vanderhoeven recorded rounds of 75 and 78. Chris Genin shot 78 and 80 while Ashley Cox rounded the scoring for the Rocks with scores of 82 and 86.

The SSC team would like to thank all members and board members of the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club for the support and cooperation.

OLA students uphold message of speaker on chastity

Upon hearing the nationally acclaimed columnist and lecturer Mary Beth Bonacci speak on chastity to the students of Our Lady Academy May 3, senior Rebecca Dockens was impressed and felt called to act on Bonacci's message to "choose chastity."

Dockens visited all the religious studies classes on May 5 and challenged the students to come to the OLG Church during lunch May 8 and make a commitment to chastity.

Dockens told the students that she agreed with Bonacci that "chastity is a gift from God to give to only one person" and that "sex should be confined to the marriage relationship." She also quoted Bonacci as saying "a commitment to chastity is between you, your God and your future."

More than 170 students voluntarily came to the church

May 8 during lunch time to sign a card of commitment to chastity. Dockens presented each with a beaded bracelet, which she made over the weekend, to remind them of their commitment.

Using Bonacci's suggestion "to pray to God every day in some way," Dockens thought the bracelet would be a visible sign to remind each one her commitment and the need to pray.

Sponsored by the Common Concerns Group of the "Parents for OLA" Organization, Bonacci received a standing ovation from the OLA students when she made her presentation.

Bonacci holds a bachelor's degree in communication from the University of San Francisco and a master's degree in theology of marriage and family from the John Paul II Institute in Washington D.C.

Tasselin named Hearin-Hess Scholar

Eight students will enter Mississippi State University next fall as Hearin-Hess Scholars in Engineering.

The scholars receive $4,000 a year for four years through a gift from the Robert M. Hearin Foundation of Jackson and the Leon Hess Foundation of New York.

In 1989, the two foundations jointly began providing $200,000 a year for 10 years to support undergraduate scholarships, professorships and laboratory equipment in the College of Engineering. Hearin-Hess Scholars are chosen by the dean of engineering and a committee of engineering faculty members.

The new scholars include Cedric E. Tasselin of Diamondhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick A. Tasselin and a graduate of the Mississippi School for Mathematics and Science in Columbus. Tasselin, who had an American College Test score of 33, plans to major in computer engineering.
